

'Can't Get 40-Gallon Cans'

Garbage Rate Hike Hearing 'Decomposes'

A public hearing on whether to grant a 30 percent rate hike to the Daly City Scavenger Co. decomposed into an argument over the availability of 40-gallon garbage cans at a public hearing before the City Council Monday.

Scavenger collection rates in Daly City are based on a 40-gallon can size. Many residents complained that that size container could not be purchased in Daly City and many residents had to use the smaller 32-gallon size can.

Daniel Shelton, of 612 Bellevue St., said he was forced to put additional garbage in a box but scavengers would not pick it up when they made their rounds.

Councilman Victor Kyrakis argued that 40-gallon size cans were available in Daly City and those persons who failed to take advantage of this were losing out.

One irate resident of the Serramonte area said a large retail store sold her a 42-gallon can that only held 42 gallons, "but no 40-gallon can."

The purpose of the hearing was to consider the scavenger company's proposed 90 cents per month rate hike — to $3.60.

Accountant Richard Dwyer said the company had been operating in the red for several months and the financial future of the company looked bleak unless the rate hike was granted.

In the first quarter of this year the company registered an average $22,000 loss. During the same period in 1975, the company showed a profit of $44,000, Dwyer said.

Reason for this sudden reversal is the increased cost of labor, maintenance of equipment and replacement of worn out equipment, it was explained.

"We should have been here (before the council) eight months ago," Dwyer said.

In the next two years the scavenger company has projected replacement costs for equipment will exceed $400,000.

Mission Street businessman George Kirchhubel said he felt the council was not being given the complete story by Dwyer.

He said an outside accountant should be retained to go over the company books, pointing out that Dwyer also conducts the annual city audit.

The dump site is owned by Daly City and operated by the scavengers.

The city charges the scavenger company a franchise fee of 8.3 percent on gross revenues collected.

Daly City also charges a small fee for preparing and mailing out monthly billings to users.

Attorney Anthony David of San Francisco protested what he argued were "discriminatory rates" between apartment dwellers and commercial customers.

David, appearing before the council on behalf of the owners of the Danica Apartment Complex, said apartments in Daly City pay 20 percent more than commercial rates.

Apartments are charged by the number of rental units in a structure, while commercial rates are based on the cubic footage of a container, it was explained.

Any rate increase would have to be passed on to renters, David said.

"Would you really raise your rents 90 cents?" Kyrakis asked. "You usually raise it $1."

David conceded, "I don't think there will be a revolt over a 90-cent increase" and he allowed that he could not "guarantee there will be a tenant-landlord war over this increase."

He agreed to try and work something out with the scavenger company at the suggestion of Mayor Anthony Giammona.

Meanwhile, the council is expected to study the rate structure request for two weeks before taking action.

Dumpsite Soils Tests Appear Inconclusive

Studies conducted by soils engineers at Daly City's Mussel Rock dump indicate the life of the refuse site may be as long as 30 years — or it could be closed within the next couple of years.

Buzz Sheldon, of KCA Engineers, told the City Council in a special meeting Monday that soils tests conducted in recent months at the oceanside dump have been more or less inconclusive.

The reason: Water is seeping into the ground from beneath the actual dumping area causing it to slip and shift.

This water is apparently acting as a lubricant, the engineer explained.

In the past five years the dump has slipped some 15 inches and settled about five feet.

Unless the water can be pumped out, the lifespan of the dump will be curtailed, perhaps within three years.

Oldtimers say the water is caused by hundreds of underground springs.

Shelton offered one theory that sea water is being forced into a fissure — perhaps the San Andreas Fault — and up underneath the dumping site.

There would be little hope, if this were the case, of ever being able to pump out the water and stabilize the dump engineers said.

The Pacifica-Daly City-Colma area was once spotted with numerous lakes. Near the site of the present dump was a large lake that was drained and filled more than two decades ago.

But the springs persist, the longtimers say.

How to get this water out of the dump, regardless of where it is coming from, is the problem engineers explain.

Girl, 13 Released In Slaying

Less than a month after she was sentenced for the kidnap of a South San Francisco woman from a local shopping center and the woman's murder later near Mendocino, 13-year-old Sharon Nicolini has been paroled by the California Youth Authority.

Miss Nicolini was convicted in a juvenile court hearing in Mendocino of murder, conspiracy, armed robbery and auto theft and sentenced April 8.

Mendocino Dist. Atty. Duncan James, who prosecuted the Pacifica girl, said she was paroled May 3 to be placed in a foster home where she is to stay until she is 18.

He said he did not know if the California Youth Authority has found one yet for the girl. The home can not be in the Bay Area or in Trinity County where she was arrested.

The youth authority had stated in its request that the girl needs a "warm, stable, long-term homelike placement."

Also arrested with Miss Nicolini was 19-year-old Mark Ray. On Feb. 19 the two allegedly forced the woman, Mildred E. Koetz, a nurse, to get into the trunk of her car.

They later drove her toward Mendocino, according to police. Near Willits, they made Mrs. Koetz get out of the car, marched her over to the side of the road and forced her to lie face down on the ground, police said. They allegedly shot her in the back of the head.

Ray's trial is still pending.

City Manager's Days Numbered

South San Francisco councilmen have told City Manager Ed Alario to look for a new job because he probably will be fired by June 30.

The informal action — apparently by individual councilmen — occurred sometime in April. Councilmen were unwillingly to say precisely when Alario received word.

A personnel session held on March 17 soon after the new council members were installed reportedly was an attempt by at least two councilmen to fire the manager.

However, no public vote was taken and the attempt for an ouster by Councilmen William Borba and Terry Mirri was believed concluded at that time.

But it has been learned that the council discussed the firing of Alario at a second executive session last month.

The council needs at least three votes to fire the manager who has been employed in South San Francisco two years.

Again, there was no vote by the councilmen on that issue.

However, Alario confirmed that he was "unofficially" told to look for a new job.

"Until they publicly vote on it, it means nothing," Alario said. "Taking an actual vote is something else. It takes guts."

The council, he said, won't be able to take action until at least three members support his firing.

"It's no secret who doesn't like me and who does," said Alario.

The city manager said he has been seeking employment elsewhere and that one party appears interested although interviews still are being conducted.

Borba, elected to the council March 2, stated his intentions throughout his campaign to fire the manager, who he said was not following the direction of the City Council.

Mirri — who was re-elected — later stated his desire to fire the manager.

Jeff El Concert At Cow Palace

By MICHAEL ROBERTS

At 7:30 this evening 10 year-old Astrid Johannesen will debut as a performer in that vast cavern known as the Cow Palace.

The blonde student from Westlake Elementary won't be too nervous for she will be accompanied by 1,500 other children from the Jefferson Elementary School District.

The occasion is the bicentennial concert jointly sponsored by the school district and the Greater Daly City Bicentennial Committee.

Glee clubs, bands, instrumentalists and choirs from 17 grade schools and two junior high schools will be performing music described as originating from the Revolutionary War as well as other periods in American history.

Such a period is obviously the fifties because the Fernando Rivera Jazz Band are set to play "Rock Around the Clock."

Tonight's program will start with the presentation of the colors by a contingent from the San Mateo Boy Scouts organization.

Daly City Councilman Bill Schumacher will make a short speech and various other dignitaries are scheduled to be present.

was "planned to take its place among the major events in California's calendar during the bicentennial year."

Early in the program the combined elementary and junior high school bands will play "You're A Grand Old Flag" during a processional march.

After the colors are presented the Colma Intermediate Choir will sing "Salute to America."

Logistics were ironed out during Monday and Tuesday rehearsals.

Bus dispatcher Tom Padilla, responsible for the arrival and departure according to schedule of some 19 school buses containing about 60 passengers each, said on Monday that everything was going fine. "But if we can unload just a little faster it will be smoother."

Driver Joe Krumm said that he was surprised at how people were able to organize such a large undertaking.

At one point during the proceedings, Krumm described the situation as being "a madhouse."

Several mothers of Glee Club and band members were on hand to help with the rehearsals.

The concert is under the direction of head music teacher Ann Hale. Appearing calm and collected as hundreds of children streamed past her to find their right places in the hall, she said discussions for tonight's concert started back in September 1975.

"But preparations in earnest didn't get under way until January this year," she said.

During the Monday rehearsals 12-year-old Nancy Martelle from Colma Elementary School said she wished that the concert "would hurry up and get here."

Two other 12-year-olds, Jimmy Hoff and Tony Rogers, admitted to being "sort of excited" and Jimmy wanted to know when the television news cameraman would be there.

In common with the others, she was fairly calm about the big night. "An audience of some 12,000 persons is expected to attend the free performance."

Other than from Mrs. Hale, other music teachers involved with the concert are Paul Carpenter, Mary Ann Heinzen, Kim Martinez, Jon Sims and Dick Snyder.

Inadequate Insurance

Pacifica Cab Co. Operations Halt

Pacifica Cab Co. was grounded during the weekend when Police Chief Mel Nelson learned the taxi service's insurance coverage is invalid.

The small company's problems were compounded Monday night when the City Council set a June 14 hearing to consider revoking a 1960 agreement with George McMahon — owner of the company, to provide service to Pacificans.

Councilmen have cited objections to the way in which the company operates and have questioned McMahon's claims that it is a 24-hour service.

Chief Nelson said the conviction of one company driver and the recent arrest of another on charges of drunken driving led to the discovery of the insurance problem.

The State Department of Insurance notified City Atty. Gloria Scheid that the firm which alleges to handle claims of less than $50,000 for the cab company — Pacifica Public Carriers Cooperative — is in fact not a bona fide insurance carrier.

The cab company, however, is legally covered by other insurance carriers for claims of more than $50,000, he said.

Nelson said that without adequate insurance coverage the city's municipal code does not allow the company to operate.

On Monday, the council heard a report by Fred Howard, chairman of a committee studying a request for a rate increase by McMahon.

Howard said the committee found no plans by Pacifica Cab to improve its service and therefore could not recommend a rate increase.

"If a person owning a business does everything he can to do good service and finds he is not making a profit then he can justify a rate increase," Howard said. "At this time, we can not recommend a rate increase."

McMahon had asked for an increase from 80 cents to 90 cents a mile and for each flag drop.

Howard said the committee learned the company took in about $26,000 last year including its $5,000 contract with the Laguna Salada Unified School District. It averages approximately 370 customers a month.

While most cab companies including those in San Francisco rent cabs to drivers who in turn keep the fares they take in, the Pacifica Cab Co. pays its drivers half the fares it collects.

Fire Damages SSF School

Custodians at Martin School on Olive Avenue in South San Francisco were hurriedly moving furniture around Saturday to house three classes which were "evicted" by a fire Friday night.

The fire completely destroyed three classrooms in one wing. The wing is newer than the main part of Martin school the oldest school in South San Francisco built before World War II. Damage was estimated at over $80,000.

School was conducted as usual Monday, however. There are already two empty classrooms and the library and a speech therapy center could house additional students, according to Trustee Va Lambertson.

She said one of the classrooms housed a group of about 10 children with learning disabilities. The other two were regular-sized classes.

Mrs. Lambertson said the trustees will be discussing how much it will cost to rebuild the wing — and in fact, if they should rebuild it — at a board meeting tonight.

South San Francisco Battalion Chief Jack Ehle said by the time the department's six units arrived at the school around 8:45 p.m., the wing was a roaring blaze with flames visible for blocks.

Units from all over the county were called in to cover the department's stations, he said. The fire was brought under control in 15 to 20 minutes.

Chief Ehle said the cause is under investigation. He said he did not know who was the last person to leave the school wing.

Mrs. Lambertson said the trustees just finished a meeting with parents at Los Cerritos School about transferring some students there from Ponderosa School when they heard about the fire.

SSF Center Striving To Reach, Help Aged

By JANET PARKER

South San Francisco's Senior Citizen Center is on the lookout for persons over 50 who might be able to use some or all of the center's services.

A $5,890 grant from the county Agency on Aging — the only such grant given directly to a city facility — will enable the South San Francisco staff to implement an outreach program.

By the end of May, a senior outreach aide fluent in Spanish will begin a door-to-door campaign to inform seniors that there's much more available for them than they may realize.

Barbara Byrd, outreach project director, insists that the center won't force anyone to participate in anything.

The purpose of the outreach program is to let the seniors know what exists. If they're not interested, that's fine.

The senior outreach aide will knock on doors in parts of the city where seniors are believed to be concentrated, she said.

Ms. Byrd, who has worked with outreach projects before, said personal contact is very important.

"Lots of times we come across people who haven't talked to anybody in four months. They can't believe that we aren't selling anything," she said.

Many older persons, she said, regard a social service agency such as a senior center as a form of welfare and they want nothing to do with it.

But the outreach aide can explain that they are entitled to help from the center because, in most cases, they have been working all their lives and paying taxes to support such agencies.

Ms. Byrd said the grant money was provided to the county agency for distribution under the Older Americans Act of 1970. San Mateo County received about $50,000 and all but the $5,890 appropriated to South San Francisco went to the Economic Opportunity Commission.

She said she hopes the outreach aide will be able to establish trust with the city's seniors.

The outreach aide will give each senior an emergency resource referral sheet with phone numbers and information about the center, the city's paramedics, Police Department, Fire Department, City Hall and many other services.

She also will distribute brochures on senior center activities.

The senior center staff will work with the city's Information and Referral Center to determine in what parts of the city there are seniors who might need help.

She said the staff preferred a senior to serve as the aide because that individual might best be able to talk with his or her peers.

A follow-up system is planned, she said, whereby a crew of volunteers will contact the seniors a second time to see if they need transportation, translation services or simply companionship.

"Just by the nature of being a senior in our society, you've got a problem," Ms. Byrd said.

The center's goal is to contact 1,856 seniors — 204 of those low-income and 149 minorities.

The 1970 census revealed that there are 3,800 seniors in South San Francisco. Ms. Byrd said the construction of two senior citizen complexes probably has increased that number to at least 4,000.

The center already has a mailing list of 600 persons.

"The goal is not necessarily to increase our attendance," said Ms. Byrd. "We want this to become a place where all kinds of seniors will feel comfortable."

"We realize that there are people who are not used to being sociable. But the more they retreat, the more they will be afraid to come out," she said.

The center presently is open to anyone over 50. There are drop-in services Monday through Saturday. She said she hopes it will be much easier for some seniors to walk through the door at 230 Grand Ave. with the encouragement of the outreach aide.

"There's a lot of lonely people out there," she said.

session to discuss Alario's future with the city was held at the request of Borba.

Councilmen Emanuele Damonte and Mayor Leo Padreddi have not publicly stated their intentions concerning Alario, although it is believed Padreddi might cast the swing vote in favor of Alario's firing.

Councilman Richard Battaglia also confirmed that Alario has received the "unofficial" word.

"There has been informal direction," Battaglia said.

Battaglia, however, said he has supported and will continue to support the manager. He commended

Alario's performance as city manager.

He said that there is a need for continuity in the city manager's job and that the city has had too many managers in only a few years.

"It is my opinion that Mr. Alario should stay in the city," Battaglia said.

Borba said he was unable to comment and Padreddi said it was privileged information.

Mirri said Alario has been made aware of the sentiment of the council.

Will there be another vote by the council concerning Alario's future?

"I would hope so," Mirri said.

Soils —

The Daly City Scavenger Company recently spent some $44,000 in a soils study to find out what the future of Mussel Rock is.

It was for this reason — the expected future capacity of the dump — that Pacifica was informed several months ago that its dumping agreement with Daly City would be terminated July 1, 1976. After that date, Pacifica would have to look elsewhere to dump its refuse, Daly City officials said.

The decision cost the scavenger company some $250,000, and, at least one councilman suspects, caused the scavenger company to seek a rate increase to offset financial losses.

Councilman William Schumacher contends that if this source of revenue is cut off it will have two detrimental effects: It will chop income off for the scavenger company and it will prevent Pacifica from disposing of its refuse at a suitable dumping area.

Others argue that if Pacifica is allowed to continue dumping it will cut the lifespan of the dump and curtail a necessary service for the people of Daly City.

Whether the seepage can be eliminated will determine whether Pacifica, and Daly City, will have a disposal site for the next few years, scavenger company President Al Sereni said.

Cab —

Howard said that time sheets from local taverns show that the company of ten doesn't answer its phones and when it does it sometimes doesn't send a cab.

Councilman Nick Gust said Pacifica Cab Co. has been a problem for many years. McMahon's financial problems, he said, are his own. The council only wants to know what the owner intends to do to improve that company.

"If Mr. McMahon can't produce, then it's time the franchise go out to someone else," he said.

Howard said McMahon told his committee he could provide better services although he could not provide details.

ice said sometimes officers involved in such a case make recommendations regarding a juvenile's parole, but they did not know whether Capt. Jim Swinford, the officer in the Criminal Investigation Division who worked on the case, was consulted in this case. He could not be reached for comment.

"We've all got our feelings about it," a policeman said. "We're supposed to remain objective and can't give out any opinions on it."

The Mendocino district attorney, however, criticized the California Youth Authority's decision to parole Miss Nicolini as "a classic example of the total farce that the California Youth Authority really is."

Awards to Safety Patrols on May 22

The School Safety Patrols of Daly City will be the recipients of 14 red, white and blue rosettes presented by the California State Automobile Association (AAA).

The trophy-size rosettes will be given in recognition of the Daly City schools, whose safety patrols effectively guarded street crossings during the past year.

Throughout the United States, safety patrol membership is an honored position. Millions of youngsters have served since the program was instituted 50 years ago. Today no less than half a million boys and girls, many of them the children and grandchildren of former patrol members, participate in patrol activities by protecting their schoolmates.

American motorists have come to recognize, accept and appreciate the work of these young people who voluntarily assume great responsibilities. Patrol members are credited with saving many students from injury, or worse.

The presentations will be made during Daly City's Safety Patrol Review at 10 a.m., May 22, at Serramonte School.

As they returned from the annual State PTA Convention filled with enthusiasm and ideas for the coming school year, PTA unit delegates Herbert Hemington, Carol Didia, Barbara Davies, Marie Farnsworth (Daly City), Don Davis (South San Francisco), Jim Thusen (San Bruno), Elizabeth Wilson (Pacifica), Leo McCardle, Irene Salvi (Millbrae), Susan Hayes (Burlingame) and PTA Council Delegates Betty Schultz (Daly City), Eleanor Fesunoff (South San Francisco) and Arville Finacom (Millbrae), announced their willingness to share convention experiences with any interested PTAer.

District delegates, including President Jean Colby (Atherton), President-elect Ruth Galindo (Daly City), Vice-President-elect Audrey Howard (South San Francisco) and in-coming board member Will Thomas, along with Polly Nelson and Emily Oldham (San Bruno), both members of the State PTA Board of Managers, also are willing to discuss convention week with those interested in hearing about PTA action on the state level.

All convention participants are expected to report locally concerning convention business including discussion of State PTA "housekeeping" including bylaws and legislative platform changes, election of State PTA officers 1976-1978, as well as summarize the speeches of those who addressed the group including National PTA President Carol Kimmel, National PTA Second Vice President and California State Supt. of Public Instruction Wilson Riles, family and child counselor Tom Bode of Glendale, who set the keynote for convention with his talk entitled "Tomorrow's Family," and professor of political science, Dr. Robert A. Scalapino of Berkeley, who talked on "The Future of Democracy in the United States."

SSF Council Reinstates City Planner

After a five-hour budget session aimed at eliminating staff positions from its deficit budget, the South San Francisco City Council instead reinstated its city planner.

The council also told its staff to begin making the $2.6 million in cuts necessary to balance the 1976-77 city budget.

Originally, the City Council had hoped to provide the staff with its priorities for cutbacks and then have the staff prepare the budget.

But at the end of its meeting, the council adopted a suggestion made by Councilman Richard Battaglia five years earlier.

"I suggest we allow staff to present the council with several balanced budgets," Battaglia said. "We haven't got the expertise, the knowledge and the time to do this."

The council finally agreed that staff will prepare several balanced budgets containing various cuts, and the council will choose the best alternative.

A quick and informal decision, however, to retain the position of city planner in the budget was unexpected.

Since the elimination of the position was disclosed in February, the Planning Commission and residents have protested.

City Planner David Hale had received a letter from City Manager Ed Alario — at the direction of the City Council — telling him his job would no longer exist as of July 1.

However, Mayor Leo Padreddi and Councilmen Terry Mirri and Battaglia now say it would be a costly error to eliminate the planner.

Councilman William Borba said the position should be cut, and Councilman Emanuele Damonte did not participate because he had missed a related study session.

The council made it clear that at least one of the four Planning Department positions must be eliminated and that it is likely to be that held by Mike Duino, assistant city planner.

Mirri said that he had done some research and found the South San Francisco Planning Department actually is understaffed compared to cities of similar population.

The expertise of the planner, he said, is needed.

The major factor in his decision, he said, was the recent experience of neighboring San Bruno. That city had left the city planner position vacant earlier this year but was forced to find a planner when the workload on existing staff became too great.

"Let's not make the mistake we already know one other city has made," Mirri said.

But Borba warned the council that it's headed in the wrong direction in reinstating the planner.

"You're going to have to make some disastrous cuts and have the guts to do it," Borba said. "We're facing an economy crisis. The worst is yet to come."

He said the council is "dilly-dallying" around about staff cuts.

"We must cut and cut and start it tonight," he said.

Alario also had sought council direction on his recommendation that Community Development Department consisting of the planning, zoning and building inspection divisions be formed with the city planner in charge.

Council only said it wanted more information before making a decision.

For most of the evening, the council heard a detailed analysis of staffing and responsibilities in each city department.

The intent, Alario said, was to establish priorities for eventual budget cuts. He earlier had said he hoped the council would list at least 15 positions in order of priority that could be eliminated.

DC Priest Succumbs

The pastor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church in Daly City, the Rev. John W. Mullen, died after a heart attack at the church rectory last Tuesday morning.

Father Mullen was taken to Mary's Help Hospital where he was pronounced dead.

The 53-year-old pastor, was a chaplain for many years at San Quentin Prison before being transferred to Our Lady of Perpetual Help.

He was ordained a priest in 1947.

Father Mullen is survived by a sister, Sister Damian of the Ursuline Order; two uncles, Michael and Thomas Carey; and two aunts, Catherine McGeath of Ireland and Mrs. Anna Carey of San Francisco.

He was a native of San Francisco.

Thursday a Children's Mass will be recited at 1:30 p.m. and a Mass of the Resurrection at 7:30 p.m. at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church.

The Most Rev. Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken will preside at a Mass of Christian Burial Friday at 10 a.m. at the same Daly City church.

Donations to the Ursuline Sisters, 98 Bosworth St., San Francisco are preferred.

Six Flee Stubborn DC Fire

A fire which is believed to have started in a faulty fireplace caused an estimated $20,000 damage to a Daly City home.

Flames from the fire Tuesday at 1179 Brunswick Ave. caused an estimated $5,000 to a nearby structure at 1175 Brunswick.

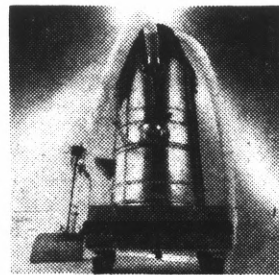

No one was hurt in the fire which some firemen described as "very stubborn."

The fire broke out about 3:30 p.m. and 18 firemen, backed by three major pieces of fire equipment, brought the fire under control in a matter of minutes, but it was not put out until a few hours later.

Six persons escaped injury when they fled into the street, a department spokesman said.

Occupants of the home were James and Sharon Govern and four house guests.

Pacifica Parents Claim School Racial Violence

By JANET REINKA

A group of black parents, some of whom say they have kept their children out of Oceana High School because of recent racial violence, are demanding action of the Jefferson Union High School Board of Trustees.

According to Oceana Principal Joseph Conway, District Supt. Floyd Gonella and Pacifica police, however, the parents are exaggerating the problem.

Hazel West, organizer of the Concerned Parents Coalition of Pacifica, said Tuesday that about 50 couples met at her home April 29 and another meeting is planned tonight to discuss the problem.

The parents claimed weapons are being brought on campus.

One parent, David Shelton, told the board his 17-year-old son, Timothy, was attacked by three white youths in the presence of three Oceana teachers "who just stood by and watched him being kicked."

Shelton said the boy was treated for a fractured nose and injuries to his side and legs the day he was taken to the hospital.

Pacifica Police Officer Jerry Grochowski said that when the police have been called to the campus because of racial fights, each time they found the fights nearly over by the time they arrived.

Of an incident last week in which the parents claimed a student was injured, Grochowski said, "It was far from being a racial disturbance. It was just two guys fighting." He said no weapons were found and that the story was "a fabrication by outside groups."

Th Rev. Larry Moore, who said he kept his son out of school last week because of racial tension, asked the board to consider hiring black teachers and administrators at the school.

The parents also have had parent volunteers monitoring lunch periods at the high school since Monday.

There are 94 or 96 black students of 1,300 enrolled at Oceana.

The board said it would take the matter under advisement.

After the meeting, the Rev. Moore criticized the board for its inaction.

"There was no response from the board," he said. "We were here primarily to let them know we have a group that wants action."

Shelton said Supt. Gonella has turned a deaf ear to the parents' repeated requests for hall monitors.

But Gonella said Wednesday that there have been only three fights at the school recently and each was one-on-one.

All six students were suspended, he said, and in the case where a student was injured, the other youth was arrested.

"There was a racial implication involved, but it was not widespread," he said. He said the situation was caused by problems from the community spilling over into the school and it "responded to immediately."

The Oceana principal, Conway, denied at the board meeting that there are problems on campus.

"We had three fights one week and later there was a fourth fight with one of the earlier participants," he said. "But things are quiet and there is no tension whatsoever. I invite parents and anyone else to come out here and see for themselves." He said there is no need for hall monitors.

OFFICES IN OTHER CALIFORNIA CITIES

SSF Still Wants Lot

South San Francisco wants the county to wait another year before selling a piece of its property within the city's boundaries.

The City Council Wednesday night said it isn't sure if it wants to buy the property and hopes that the county won't sell it before a decision is made.

The property — which the county Board of Supervisors says is worth about $80,000 — is located at the northeast corner of Westborough and Junipero Serra boulevards.

The city has set aside $108,000 in its capital improvements budget to purchase the property, commonly known as "the hole" or "the buttonhole."

The council, however, said it is concerned it might be acquiring too much property at a time when the city can't afford to develop.

"It seems the last few years the city is getting into the real estate business," said Councilman Emanuele Damonte. "The more we take off the tax roles, the deeper in debt we get."

Zoning Administrator Bill Costanzo said the city has for many years shown an interest in purchasing the property although no specific plans for its development have been made.

He said there has been some consideration of its possible use as a natural park with hiking trails or as the site of tennis courts or other recreational facilities.

Costanzo added, however, that it would take a tremendous amount of landfill to make the sunken property useable. It would take little effort, he said, to maintain the property as it is for foot traffic.

The county Board of Supervisors in August 1974 adopted a resolution of intention to sell the property to South San Francisco, thereby giving the city first choice.

The resolution expired May 30, 1975. Since then, the county has received one inquiry from a private party interested in purchasing the site.

The South San Francisco Planning Department also has received an inquiry from the Western American Land Corp. about city requirements for developing the land.

Costanzo said corporation representatives first showed an interest in building a mini storage warehouse at the site. However, they realized that such a proposal would possibly conflict with the city's general plan.

Project to Aid Crime Victims Given Boost

Approval of the recommendation that the county appropriate $5,833 for 1976-77 to pay the local share of expanding the Aid to Victims and Witnesses program countywide was voted this week by the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors.

In a report to the board, Loren A. Beckley, chief county probation officer, said the amount is the county's 5 per cent contribution to the $116,666 program. The federal government pays 90 per cent of the program, with the state and the county each paying a 5 per cent share.

The program, which has been in effect in the Central Judicial District since June 1, 1975, provides direct services to the victims of violent crime, including transportation, household assistance, notification of friends, relatives and employer, arrangement for and verification of medical benefits, referrals for state victim compensation.

Also, the program notifies and informs all witnesses in criminal cases prior to their being served with a subpoena, assists them in reaching the courthouse, provides reception and guide services at court and explains legal procedures.

Beckley's report says the project impact includes faster and more complete victim recovery from the effects of violent crime, improved attitudes of victims and witnesses toward criminal justice agencies, and receipt by victims of more local benefits and state compensation awards.

Bicentennial Ball By Navy, Marines

The men and women members of the Naval and Marine Corps Reserves will have their 1976 Bicentennial Ball celebrating the 200th birthday of our nation May 22.

The Naval and Marine Reserve Center at Sneath Lane and El Camino Real in San Bruno has been reserved for this event.

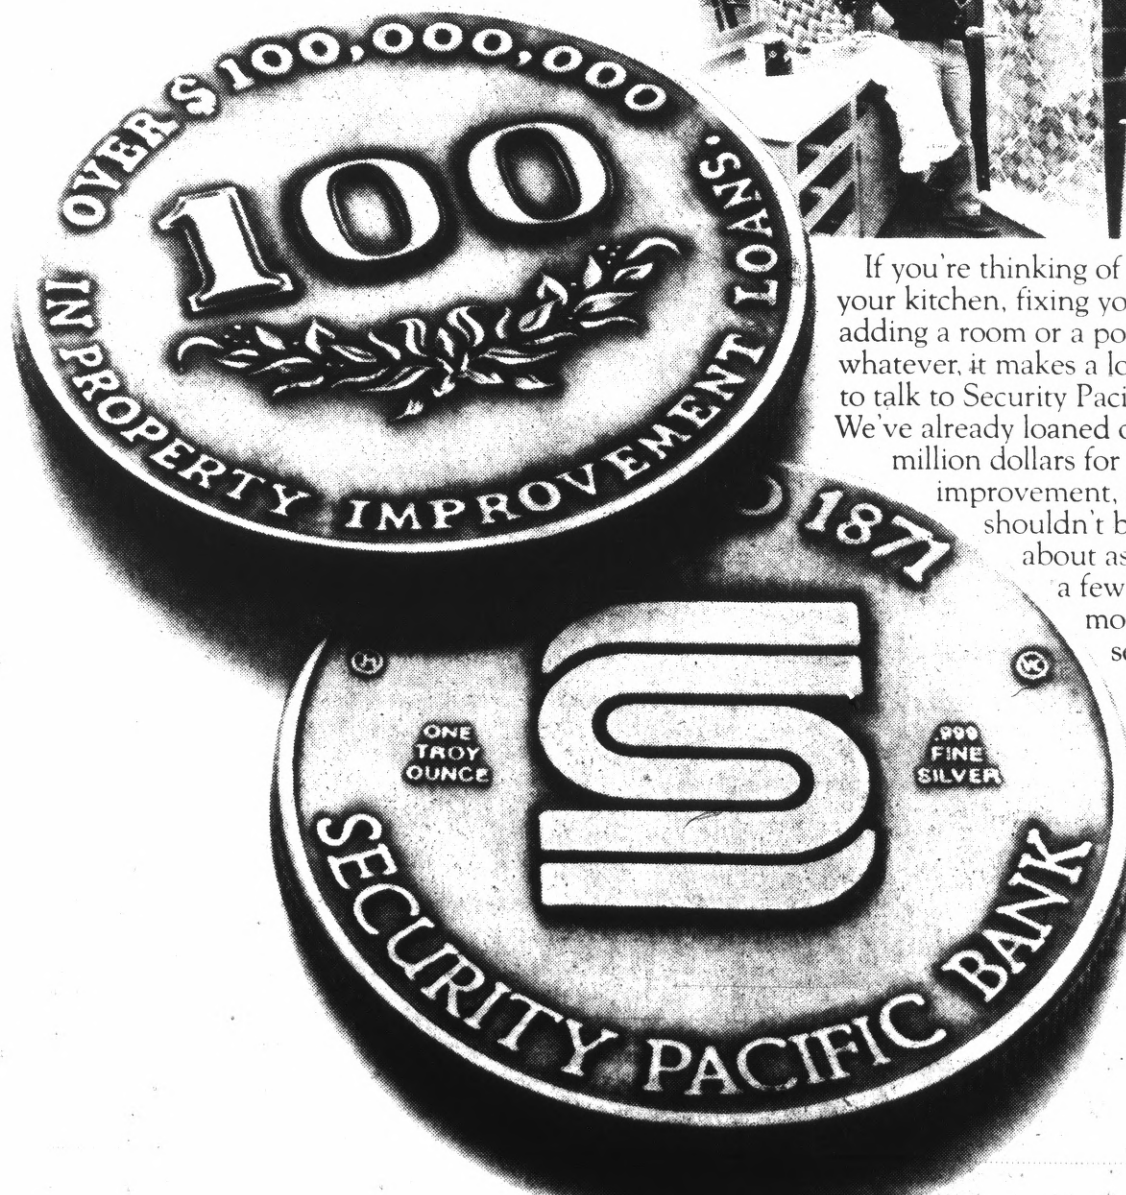

The guest of honor, Rear Admiral A. A. Braccia, commander of The Naval Reserve Readiness Command in Northern California, Nevada and Utah areas, will present the center with an official Bicentennial Flag for its designation as a Navy Bicentennial Command by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration.

He also will officiate at the cake cutting ceremony.

The Navy League will be represented by Theodore D. Lance.

Good morning, good cooks. A prize winning recipe that combines baked chicken and vegetables is just the meal to serve the family tonight. Served with a salad and an easy dessert it makes a delicious dinner.

BAKED CHICKEN WITH VEGETABLES

- 1 frying chicken, cut up
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 cups coarse bread crumbs
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/2 tsp. each, pepper, garlic salt and paprika
- 1/2 cup salad oil
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 4 small potatoes, pared 4 carrots
- 1 envelope dry onion soup mix
- 1 cup water

Combine the slightly beaten egg with the half cup milk. Mix the two cups bread crumbs, half cup flour and half teaspoon each, pepper, garlic salt and paprika.

Dip the chicken pieces in milk and egg and then in the bread crumbs. Heat the half cup salad oil in skillet, brown the chicken on all sides.

Place browned chicken in shallow baking pan; arrange the one cup chopped celery, four potatoes and carrots around chicken.

Stir the onion soup in drippings in skillet, add the one cup water and mix thoroughly. Pour over the chicken and vegetables. Cover with foil and bake in 350-degree oven about one hour or until chicken is done and vegetables are tender.

Serves four generously.

First Class Pins to Be Awarded Girl Scouts Plan Annual

FIRST Class Awards Tea is scheduled for the Daly City Girl Scout Association for May 16 from 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. at Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, according to Daly City Cadette Consultant Carole Ann Scott.

Traditionally the last Sunday before the adult awards and recognition luncheon, the first class pins are presented to those girls who have earned them.

The Girl Scout first class pin is equivalent to the Boy Scouts' Eagle honors. A Girl Scout must complete her first class requirements during her Cadette years, 7th, 8th and 9th grades in school.

This first class awards tea is also the occasion for the sixth grade juniors and their mothers to receive an introduction to Cadette scouting.

All sixth grade Juniors, their mothers, Cadette Girl Scouts and their mothers as well as Senior Scouts are welcome to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Seniors Explore Monterey

Eighty members of the Daly City Senior Citizens Club, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, recently traveled to Monterey to enjoy the weather and the sights.

As part of the day, the members visited the various shops, lunch rooms, the Customs House and Cannery Row.

National Senior Citizens Month will be celebrated during May with a trip to the College of San Mateo and a club celebration today at the Lincoln Park Community Center.

The club now has 267 members. Weekly meetings are held on Wednesdays at the Lincoln Park Community Center at 11 a.m. Membership is open to Daly City residents who are 50 years of age and older.

A thank-you letter was received from the Sonoma State Hospital for the 96 scrapbooks which were prepared by Bill and Augusta Gooler, club members.

HONORED

Det. Robert Vogt receives a commendation presented by Daly City Chief of Police David A. Hansen. The award was made by the Peninsula Light Club for service above and beyond the call of duty.

Veterans' Day Events Slated

Golden Gate University will host a Veteran's Day on its downtown San Francisco campus from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. May 12. Any Bay Area veteran seeking counseling as to VA benefits, scholarships, and career or educational planning may attend.

Representatives from the Veterans Administration, the California Employment Development Department, the National Alliance of Businessmen, and Golden Gate University's placement and admissions departments will be available for individual counseling.

The agenda includes a panel discussion on the Veterans Educational Program, through which a qualified single veteran can receive a GI scholarship of up to $3,240 per year as a full-time enrollee.

Married veterans with two children can receive as much as $4,656 annually as full-time students. This money, when combined with the general financial aid available to all students, can provide the financial base necessary for full-time progress toward a degree.

The banquet will be held at the New Southern Restaurant and approximately 135 students, parents, guests and faculty members will be in attendance.

The banquet is held each year to honor the individuals who have helped with Southwood's award-winning paper, The Brave, and the yearbook, The Savage.

The annual publications award will be presented to an adult from the community who has helped with the publications. An individual student of the department who has contributed personal effort towards the success of the publications, above and beyond normal class time, will be awarded the annual press award.

The final awards to be presented are those given to the outstanding members on the staffs of The Brave and The Savage. W. J. Maher, adviser to Southwood's publications, will present all the awards.

Maher will also be serving as the Master of Ceremonies for the evening.

Mark Simon, reporter for Electronic News, will deliver the evening's major address. Simon will address the student journalists and guests on the merits of school publications.

Nick Crusick, Co-ordinator of Child Welfare and Attendance for the South San Francisco School District, will offer a few humorous remarks and observations during the evening.

Few Campsite Are Available

A few campsite reservations are still available for the Memorial Day weekend at state park campgrounds in the north coast and inland areas of California.

State Parks and Recreation Director Herbert Rhodes said, however, that people who hope to camp in state parks, beaches, and recreation areas during the nights of May 28 through 30 should make their reservations immediately if they have not already done so.

Reservations for state park campgrounds may be made as early as 90 days in advance or as late as Monday for the following weekend at any of the many Ticketron offices throughout the state.

Beginning this year, 20 per cent of the campsites at each park unit are kept off the reservation list until 30 days before the camping date to serve some of the people who cannot plan their vacations three months in advance.

Gambling Arrests Net 10

Charles Bates, special agent-in charge of the FBI office in San Francisco, Friday announced the arrest at their homes of 10 men on gambling and conspiracy counts involving activities last fall.

Three of the 10 arrested reside in San Mateo County. They were identified by the FBI as Dino Frank Donati, 56, of 19 Castlemon St., Daly City; Reginald Frederick Sutter, 46, of 604 Port Drive, San Mateo; and Donald Joseph Schooley, 38, of 3402 Spyglass, San Mateo.

Each of the 10 was charged with one count of conspiracy and one count of "conducting, financing, managing, supervising, directing and owning" an illegal gambling business. The arrests followed return of indictments Thursday by a special Federal Grand Jury in San Francisco.

The FBI indicated that federal court-authorized wiretaps were used, and that the investigation proceeded under the Organized Crime Control Act that became effective in 1970.

The suspects will be taken before U.S. Magistrate Owen E. Woodruff Jr. in San Francisco.

Total maximum sentence on the two counts could be 10 years imprisonment and/or a $30,000 fine, an official said.

Jeff Summer Program Announced

The Jefferson Union High School District will conduct a summer school program starting June 14 and ending on August 6.

The main summer school program will be held at Westmoor High School with some satellite classes being offered at other high schools throughout the district.

The registration period for summer school is in progress and will continue until May 19.

Descriptive brochures regarding the program and applications for enrollment are available at each of the high schools and those schools where graduating eighth graders attend.

Students interested in attending the program should fill out an application and return it to their counselor at each school.

High school students residing within the district but attending a private school may enroll by filling out an application and returning it to one of the high schools in care of the Summer School Program.

A comprehensive program will be available to students who opt to attend the summer school program. Many beginning, intermediate, and advanced courses will be offered in the basic learning areas of English, social studies, mathematics, and science.

A wide variety of courses in specialty areas such as art, home economics, industrial education, business, physical education and language are also available.

Several first-time summer school courses are being offered. These include vocational English, needlecraft, interior decorating, the sexual revolution, and a variety of bilingual courses such as basic math, introduction to social studies, Spanish for the Spanish-speaking and language arts.

SEVERAL SUMMER school policy changes were recently adopted by the District's Board of Trustees. Some of the more significant changes include:

- Students who meet certain prerequisites will be able to earn 15 credits rather than the usual 10.

- Students who attend summer school classes but do not complete them will receive NG's (no grade) rather than the WF's and F's as in the past.

- When doing passing work, students will receive credits in accordance to the number of days in attendance. A student who attends 26-30 days will receive three credits, 31-35 days will receive four credits, and 36-39 days will receive five credits (summer school is 39 days in length). Three tardies will count as one absence.

- A student who is absent for six or more consecutive days will be dropped from the summer school program unless the summer school office is informed that the student intends to return.

- A student must attend the first day of summer school to confirm his/her registration or notify the summer school office that for illness or bereavement reasons he/she will attend at a later date.

- Students may late register during the first three days of summer school.

SEVERAL PROGRAMS will be offered at different high schools throughout the district. Classes in driver training (behind the wheel), work experience, and physical education will be held at each of the high schools except Thornton.

A teacher aide program will again be offered this year. This program involves high school students being placed as aides to teachers in elementary schools.

Also, a community service program is being developed. It will involve students being assigned to selected work stations in the community and doing community-service type voluntary work.

A special application for these two programs must be filled out and may be acquired at local school offices. Students enrolled will receive high school credits.

Men's Garden Club Slates Plant Sale

The Men's Garden Club of San Mateo County is sponsoring the annual plant sale May 29 between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. at Borel Square, El Camino Real and 19th Ave., San Mateo.

Sale plants are grown by club members. Contributions are also received from other sources. There is no admission fee, and all plants are priced to sell.

The public is invited to browse and select favorites — be it vegetables, house plants, trees, garden flowers or shrubs.

Available plants will include the always popular fuchsias, azaleas, ferns, cacti, herbs, roses, orchids, geraniums, junipers, marigolds, and hanging basket arrangements.

Among the trees are such varieties as Japanese maples, birch, redwood, citrus, and various other evergreens.

Proceeds from the sale are used by the Men's Garden Club to promote civic and community projects as the need arises.

Two Compete in Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest

Two students at Serramonte went looking for trouble and they will find plenty of it in the Northern California Championship Plymouth Trouble Shooting contest May 6 at Washington High School in Fremont.

John Barber and Kent

Carrillo represented their school in the event, according to R. Escalambre, auto shop instructor.

They won the right to compete after being selected as outstanding students by their instructor and then scoring high grades in a written examination through which prospective teams qualify for Trouble Shooting Contests.

The Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest, often called the "Olympic Games of the auto industry," brings together the top auto mechanics students in Northern California in a mechanical competition offering rewards for the victors.

The Trouble Shooting Team is sponsored by Daly City Chrysler-Plymouth.

Each year, Plymouth dealers in cooperation with more than 2,200 schools sponsor the Trouble Shooting contest to encourage mechanically talented students to continue their education and seek jobs in the automotive field.

Teams compete first on a state level, with the winners continuing on to the National Finals at Chicago

June 28, 29 and 30.

Teams consist of two students, who are assigned a car in which a series of malfunctions have been deliberately placed. Teams race the clock and each other to correct all the malfunctions and restore the car to perfect running order.

'The Music Man' Opening Tomorrow

A parade of trombones and the sounds of a marching band will cascade throughout Westmoor High School's Little Theatre when Meredith Willson's "The Music Man" is presented May 13, 14, 15, and 20, 21 and 22.

In conjunction with the Daly City Recreation Department, "The Music Man" will be directed by Kenneth Brown, Westmoor's drama teacher, while Ronald Wells, drama specialist for the Daly City Recreation Department will be the musical director.

Students from Westmoor as well as students from Daniel Webster, Serramonte, Ben Franklin and Pauline Brown Schools will be featured in the production.

"The Music Man" is a light-hearted musical which takes place in a small Iowa town in 1912.

It involves a con-man, Prof. Harold Hill arriving in River City and trying to persuade the community to invest in a boys' band for their youth. Little does anyone know Prof. Hill cannot read a note of music.

Quick to catch on to his scheme is Marian Paroo, the spinster librarian. Hill then proceeds to win Marian's heart to keep her quiet. But poor Prof. Hill gets caught in his own tangle and falls for the pretty librarian.

"The Music Man" creates an evening filled with delight, sprinkled with comedy, dancing and the ever-popular music which made it so well known. Among songs to be featured are "Seventy-Six Trombones," "The Wells Fargo Wagon" and "Trouble."

Performances are 8 p.m. in Westmoor's Little Theatre. Student tickets are $1.00 and adults $1.50. Tickets can be obtained at the door or by calling Westmoor's main office.

The cast includes Steven Price as Prof. Harold Hill, Megan Johnson as Marian, Marcellus Washburn as Nathan Johnson, Mayor and Mrs. Shinn are to be portrayed by Steve Powers and Mary Powelson. Zaneeta, the mayor's daughter, will be Debbie Freiberg and her beau is F. J. Pratt who is playing Tammy. The multi-talented barber-shop quartet includes Michael Eckhardt, David Jeppson, Dean Palmer and Jay Pierce.

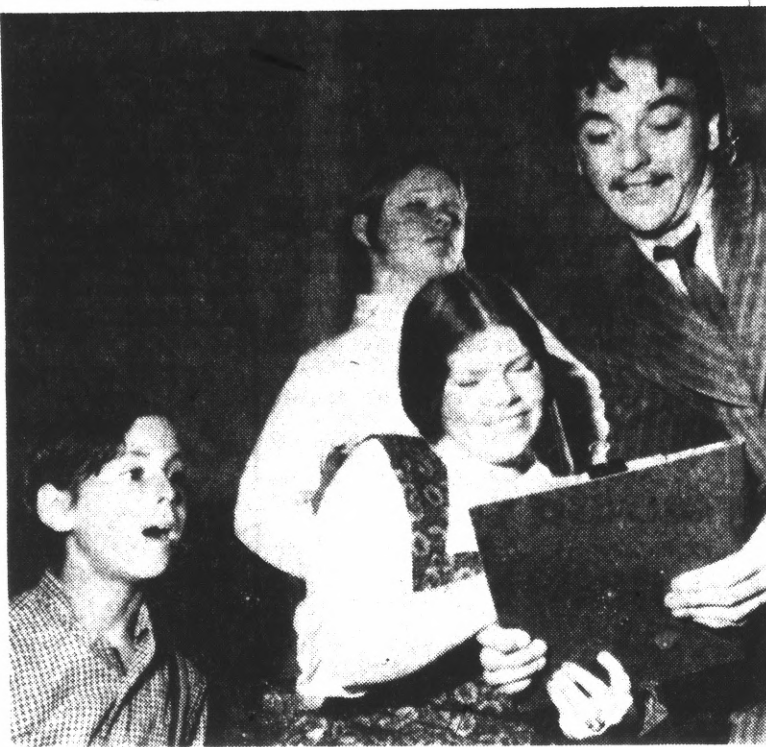

Playing the town biddies are Donna Forman, Fran Garusschausen, Rosanna Gomez and Alison Jenkin. Other cast members include George Zerubin as Charlie Cowell, Cheryl Fluehr as Mrs. Paroo, Amayllis is Nina Truch, Gracie Shinn is Mary Jo Price, and Winthrop is Lance Kaplan. The chorus includes Paul Allenfort, Katie Bellak, Marianne Chandler, Carlos Gordon, Jerry Dowd, Mike Dowd, Garth Hurd, Ian Johnson, Simon Lee, Frank Matteuce, Sue Palmer, Clive Reece, Pat Vivion and Michelle Wilkenson.

Costumes are designed by Chris Hodgskiss, sets by Jim Wells, poster and program are designed by Alan Muroaka, choreographer is Brenda Wells and lighting is designed by Cheryl Fluehr.

Assigned

The son of a Daly City resident has been assigned to Travis AFB, Calif., following graduation from the jet engine mechanic course at Chanute AFB, Ill.

Airman Eddie J. Adams Jr., whose father is Eddie J. Adams, was trained to inspect and repair turbojet and gas turbine engines and will now serve with a unit of the Military Airlift Command.

REHEARSING

Lance Kaplan, as Winthrop in the Daly City Recreation Department's upcoming production of "The Music Man," receives permission from his mother, played by Cheryl Fluehr (seated), to join a boys' band. Looking on are Megan Johnson and Steven Price.

CSM to Perform 'Twelfth Night'

The College of San Mateo will render its version of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" May 20, 21, 22.

"Twelfth Night" is one of the most effective and popular of Shakespeare's comedies. Writing of the notable Old Vic production of 1950, critic W. A. Darlington declared that "to many people, myself most emphatically included, 'Twelfth Night' is the nearest thing to a perfect comedy yet composed in English."

The play is also a favorite of the acting profession. Its major roles having been filled in the past by such performers as Helen Hayes, Maurice Evans, and a youthful Marion Brando.

Those desiring further information should contact the college.

Wednesday, May 12, 1976 THE POST  —3L

Le Pacini

A ROUND OF BASEBALL MISCELLANY: Does Baltimore need Reggie Jackson? You be the judge. As we write this, the Orioles have a team batting average of .190, only Kansas City has hit fewer homeruns than they do, and they are last in the major leagues in runs scored.

And do the Dodgers need Walter Alston? You be the judge. They have since opening day been without their offensive leader, Davey Lopes, who starts all sorts of things with his singles and doubles and stolen bases from the top of the lineup.

They lost one of their two or three top starting pitchers when the courts took Andy Messersmith from them. Shortstop Bill Russell has been in and out of the lineup, and now left fielder Bill Buckner is missing. Even Mike Marshall has been erratic coming out of the bullpen.

So here is a team with a large chunk out of its pitching, its keystone combination missing, the top of its batting order disrupted, and they put together a long winning streak and challenge the great Cincy Reds. Do they need Walter Alston?

Have you yet thought about the parallels that can be drawn between the only two native-born San Franciscans to ever play for the Giants in San Francisco — Alan Gallagher and Ken Reitz? Both, of course, are third basemen.

Gallagher went to Mission High School, and Reitz went to Jefferson High in Daly City, but Jefferson is on Mission Street, and Reitz's father, Roy, did go to Mission High. There aren't many similarities, however, between how Gallagher hit and fielded and the way Reitz hits and fields.

CLASSIC LINE from Giants utility man pinch-hitter Chris Arnold on the Giants' Italian-American Day when he was introduced to Joe Dimaggio.

"Nice to meet you, Joe. I hear you were a streak hitter."

THE WAY JIM BARR is going as a starting pitcher, it makes one wonder if perhaps it wouldn't be a bad idea to return Barr to the bullpen, at least temporarily, where he was at one time very effective. True, the Giants at this point need starting more than they need relief hurling, but on the other hand, anything that can get out of Barr right now would be a plus, whether it's starting or relieving.

WE DON'T KNOW how significant this is, but if you're interested in odd statistics, it may interest you to know that 23 of the players listed on the Giants' 40-man spring roster live in California.

Only one, utility infielder Craig Robinson, lives in San Francisco. One, Charley Williams, lives among us in Daly City. Foster City is the California champ, with four Giants residents — John D'Acquisto, Dave Heaverlo, Mike Sadek and Gary Matthews. Two pitchers, Jim Barr and Mike Caldwell, live in San Mateo.

IF ANYBODY ASKS YOU Western Division clubs in the National League hold a winning edge in inter-division play since divisional play began in 1969, having compiled a .509 winning percentage and having had the winning record in four of the seven seasons.

The Giants are .514 against the East, behind only the Reds (.609) and Dodgers (.545) in the West. In fact, only San Diego is below .500 against the East, really having ruined the Western Division record by playing only .376 ball against Eastern opposition. Throw out San Diego's "play" and the West holds a .536 record against the East.

WE ALSO DON'T KNOW what particular significance the following item holds, except that it interests us.

We old baseball fans all retain this image of Ty Cobb at the plate — hands spread apart on the bat for better control, just sticking the bat out, meeting the ball, and spraying hits to all fields.

To a large degree, that image is correct. Except that when Cobb wanted to pull the ball, he would close his hands up, sliding his left hand down, and take more of the stance of a traditional slugger.

Cobb was a big man for his day (almost 6-1, 175 pounds, and heavier later in his career), and had power when he chose to use it. It is said that he often drew slugger types into homerun contests during batting practice, and usually won them.

Cobb often said that had he chosen to go that way, he could have been homerun hitter, but he would have had to sacrifice 30-50 points in his batting average (which still wouldn't have been too bad), and that just wasn't his game.

LOCAL NOTE: Don't forget the Jefferson Alumni Benefit Dinner and Dance on May 22 in the Serra High School banquet room.

As we wrote a few weeks ago, the dance is being held for two important reasons: 1) to socialize with old friends, 2) to raise money to supplement Jefferson High School's athletic budget, which is in bad shape.

Joe McGrath, chairman of the dance committee, assures us that there will be a few "names" at the affair.

Allow us to roll some of them off your eyeballs: Pete Markovich, Ed Morgan, Mike Orlich, Elio Fontana, Tony Giammona, Ed Cereghino, Bob St. Clair, Don Delbon and possibly such as Roy Guisti, Ray Rosa, John Madden, Paul Tapia, Jim Honeywell, Don Mossi, Ken Reitz, Dennis Marc, not to mention the planning committee of Jim Cunningham, Ed Johnson, Bob Brandi, Jack Burgett, Dr. Floyd Gonella, Dr. Robert Bush, Mike Cloonan, Rich Tranthan, Mike Kennedy, Joe Galante and Bob With.

The committee urges all alumni who wish to attend to write to: Joe McGrath, Jefferson High School, Daly City, for a reservation blank. Alumni who have already received a reservation blank should send it in with their check now.

SPECIAL MOMENTS IN SPORTS: (As it will appear tonight on Ken Dito's "Spotlight on Sports on San Francisco cable television Channel 6.)

Dick Stuart, the San Carlos kid who one-hit 66 home runs in one season in the minors and then poled out 228 of them in a 10-year big league career, mostly with the Pirates, was a certified character.

Nicknamed "Dr. Strangelove" because of what he did to thrown balls at first base, stories of Stuart's "iron hands," prodigious homeruns and flashes of ego-oriented oratory are legend.

One of them concerns his rookie year in professional baseball in 1951, when he was with Modesto of the California League.

Stuart was rooming with another Pirate bonus baby, Dick Lopeman, who had been an All-City catcher with Mission High School in San Francisco.

Lopeman, comparatively slight of build, was a good line-drive hitter, but Stuart insisted on a running homerun rivalry with him.

Lopeman preceded Stuart in the lineup and one night was beamed. This was in the era before the helmet, and Lopeman wasn't in good shape. Stuart was the first to reach him as he lay prone at home plate, and Dick showed great concern for his roommate, who was eventually carried off the field on a stretcher.

The prostrate Lopeman was just conscious enough in the clubhouse to hear a huge roar from the crowd, and in the next minute or so he heard the sound of clattering spikes rushing into the clubhouse.

Newcomer Cruz Azul Beats Westlake 11-1 in Soccer

Played on a beautiful field at Laney College, a May 2 soccer game against Westlake established Cruz Azul, a newcomer to the league, as a well balanced team with superior ball skills. The team won 11 to 1.

For the first 20 minutes, Westlake played on even terms, with goalie Dave Inocencio making repeated last ditch saves.

Jim Kennedy put the Westlakers ahead, capitalizing on Cruz Azul's goalie's bobble. Shortly after Westlake again missed a 12-yard penalty.

Then Cruz Azul equalized and with three more quick goals led 4 to 1 at the half. The second half was all Cruz Azul's as they put on relentless pressure.

Their inside right with powerful scoring shots from outside the goal area, and a spectacular header while lying on the ground established him as a most outstanding player, as he created opening after opening for his teammates. For the Westlakers Mark Vidosh, Paul Luz, Sergio Flores, Tim Short played well defensively despite the lopsided score.

In the under 12 division South San Francisco beat Westlake Rovers 6 to 1.

A good first half for South San Francisco saw them with a 3 to 0 lead as the Rovers' defense lapsed several times, and the alert South San Francisco forwards went in for the kill.

In the second half, the Westlake Rovers were the attacking team, but could not muster any decisive scoring punch, until the close when Dominic Deville scored on a loose ball.

Again South San Francisco scored twice on defensive ineptness by the Rovers.

Hugo Gonzales and Mike Kennedy were stalwarts on defense for the Rovers, with Dave Marrogim making some good interceptions.

There was a definite lack of total football as the Rovers' halfbacks did not fully support their offense when attacking, or their fullbacks when South San Francisco exerted their individual forward speed.

Skyline Spikes Finish Second

By FRED BAER
Post Correspondent

PORTERVILLE — Skyline College came on late with victories in the mile relay and triple jump but failed to catch defending champion Porterville in the second annual California Small Conference Invitational Track and Field championships Friday night.

Host Porterville tallied 86 points while Skyline had 78 for second.

Mason Larkin and Charlie Ford took one-two in the hop-step event, Larkin setting a meet record of 47-2 1/2. The Trojans shaved three-tenths off their own meet record in the mile relay, pulling out a close 3:20.8 victory with the quartet of John Novo (51.3), Ray Watts (49.4), Oscar Porter (50.2) and Ron Hornstra (49.9).

But Skyline failed to score needed points in the early field events. And in the 800 Rich Hornstra ran a life best of 1:55.8 but was only sixth as Dave Wells of Redwoods posted the best mark of the day with a 1:51.2 victory (fastest time in the state this year).

Menlo's lone qualifier for the meet, John Routh, ran second in the three mile in 15:07.6 to Tim Hampton of Antelope Valley (15:00.4).

Skyline started off well on the track. Keith Larsen and Dennis Martinez placed two-three in the steeplechase behind Bill Dyer of Lassen (9:57.4).

In the 400, Coast Conference champ Oscar Porter of Skyline led the first 300 meters. But inexperience cost the first-year trackster. He went out a bit too fast and dropped to fourth in 49.9 as Coast runner-up Ron Hall of Hartnell triumphed in 49.3.

Another Skyline frosh, hurdler Raphael Smith, ran second in the highs (14.8) to national leader Phil Branson (14.2) of Porterville and fourth in the intermediates.

Skyline was hurt by the absence of injured sprinter Alvin Diles and the lack of a 440 relay team but Mitchell Lockett did grab place points in both relays for the Trojans.

In the weights, Dan John took third in the discus at 153.3 and Gerrit Schram fourth in the shot at 46-5 for Skyline.

Skyline Nine Beats Menlo Title Tie Clinched

Skyline College's baseball team erupted for seven runs in the third inning and coasted to a 9-1 victory Friday over visiting Coast Conference rival Menlo.

The win clinched for Skyline (13-3) at least a tie for the conference title with two games remaining.

Run-scoring singles by Mark Racette, Mike Giusti, Al Dunn and Steve Sbragia highlighted the Trojans' game-clinching rally. Menlo contributed three errors during the uprising.

Racette and Sbragia paced Skyline with two hits apiece.

Mike Piserchio (7-1) earned the win for SC. The veteran righthander struck out 12 and walked two.

SSF Wins NPL Title

Matt Allio pitched South San Francisco High's baseball team to the North Peninsula League championship Friday as the Warriors blanked host Westmoor 2-0.

Elsewhere in the NPL, visiting Half Moon Bay edged Oceana 2-1 and host El Camino topped Jefferson 3-2.

South City (11-2-1) has clinched the league title even though El Camino (10-3) could conceivably finish with the same record. Should Camino win its makeup game with Jefferson next week and the Warriors lose their contest with Terra Nova then SSF will still get the title nod by virtue of its two league wins over the Colts.

However, South City will have to survive the Shaughnessy Playoffs before they can advance to the Central Coast Section tournament which was won by Camino last season.

Allio, a lefthanded junior, faced only 22 batters (one over the limit) in stifling Jefferson. He allowed three hits, struck out five and walked none. Allio also picked off two Jeff baserunners.

SSF's pitching sensation has been the surprise of the year in the NPL. The Warrior southpaw is now 6-1 with an 0.76 earned run average.

Jim Selvitella, who has played a major role in the Warriors title quest, hit a solo home run in the second inning to provide the winning hit.

SSF added an insurance run in the fourth when Selvitella walked, stole second and then advanced home on two passed balls.

Rich Bordi's sixth-inning two-run homer sparked Camino's come-from-behind victory over Jeff. The Indians had tallied twice in the third to lead 2-1 entering the sixth.

Herman Segelke limited Jeff to three hits to pick up the win for the Colts.

Fire Units Eye Schools Balance Budget

Automatic Aid

Automatic aid between South San Francisco and Daly City, San Bruno fire departments is being developed.

If implemented, the pact will expand a program of shared fire services throughout the county.

It also may be another step toward a North County automatic aid system — a goal of the fire chiefs of San Bruno, South San Francisco, Pacifica, Daly City and Brisbane.

"One of the goals of the North County fire chiefs is to develop an automatic aid that involves all our cities responding as one fire department," South San Francisco Chief William Toellner said.

South San Francisco has had an automatic aid policy with Daly City since December 1974.

South San Francisco automatically sends a crew to every fire in Daly City between Highway 280 and Skyline Boulevard as far north as Wimberly Drive.

In turn, Daly City sends a single fire crew to every fire north of Westborough Boulevard and west of Highway 280 to the border of the two cities.

Chief Toellner said he and San Bruno Fire Chief Harper Petersen have met to discuss automatic aid several times. They now are devising maps of the potential areas where crews would respond.

The areas that would be involved, Chief Toellner said, are those in San Bruno where a South City crew could respond more quickly than a San Bruno crew.

Likewise, San Bruno would send a crew from its Sneath Lane station to areas in South San Francisco where its own firefighters could not respond as quickly.

Both city managers, Chief Toellner said, are seeking the approval of the respective city councils before the pact is implemented.

He said he expects it will take three to six months to work out automatic aid with San Bruno.

There will be no actual cost related to the aid plan, Chief Toellner said. The only cost in the long-run, he added, would be the additional wear and tear on fire vehicles.

"It's a program whereby both cities will help each other," he said.

He said nearly every city in the county now is involved in some kind of automatic aid between fire departments.

A balanced $20,474,080 budget for 1976-77 has been presented to the South San Francisco Unified School District Board of Trustees.

The proposed budget includes $10,409,132 in teachers' salaries, $134,881 for salaries of the four top administrators, and $2,234,721 in classified salaries, which includes clerical, maintenance and transportation personnel.

The total budget represents an increase of $717,884 over the estimated 1975-76 expenditures and $2,496,727 over the actual 1974-75 total expenditures.

District Controller Paul Zink said the school district property tax rate will not be determined until June 30 at the earliest.

The tax rate is based upon the city's assessed valuation as determined by the county assessor's office. Those figures will not be available until this summer.

However, Zink said that Senate Bill 90 — approved two years ago by the state legislature — limits the revenue the district may collect from property tax. School districts must work around the amount to which they are entitled.

"I would guess that our tax rate will drop at least a nickel," said Zink. He said he is expecting assessed valuations in South San Francisco to greatly increase this year.

Hoedown

The Kalico Kats Square Dance Club of Daly City will hold a Hoedown May 15 at Colma School.

Charlie Brown, the club caller, will be doing the honors.

Norma and Mike Degmetich are cueing the round dancing. The evening will start with the rounds at 8 p.m.

There will be a donation and a special rate for teens.

The tax rate last year was $4.37 per $100 of assessed valuation.

The California Teachers' Association, which represents most of the district's more than 500 teachers, is awaiting designation by the board as the official bargaining agent, according to new collective bargaining provisions.

The district's teachers — who went on strike last spring for two weeks — have yet to submit their negotiations package.

Board Approves Outdoor School

Whether the San Mateo County Board of Education will offer an outdoor education program during the 1976-77 school year may depend on what happens soon in Sacramento.

The Board of Education, voted four to three Wednesday night to authorize the operation of the outdoor education program at the Jones Gulch YMCA Camp near La Honda, provided legislation is passed exempting outdoor education facilities from provisions of the Field Act.

The act prescribes earthquake safety standards for schools. The Attorney General's Office recently ruled that provisions of the act also apply to outdoor education facilities. Most of the buildings at Jones Gulch, where the outdoor education program has been held for years, fail to meet the standards.

The exemption clause is contained in Assembly Bill 3840, currently before the state Legislature. Also made a condition of continuing the outdoor education program at Jones Gulch is that the YMCA provide acceptable housing for staff members, including teachers who accompany students.

There was necessity for doubling up and finding additional housing in the area last year when both the San Mateo County and the San Joaquin County programs overlapped during a portion of the program.

Members of the Board of Education indicated that unless the facility is exempted from the Field Act, there probably will be no outdoor education program next year. To continue operation of the facility without the exemption would subject board members to personal liability in the event of an earthquake which resulted in injury to pupils.

The Board of Education currently is seeking to determine whether to build a controversial new outdoor education facility at a cost of $4 million, whether to try and improve facilities at Jones Gulch or whether to seek use of the San Mateo County Council, Boy Scouts of America's Cutter Scout Reservation near Big Basin for the program.

Favoring continuing operation at Jones Gulch with the exemption provision were Trustees Jose E. Bernal, Elio Fontana, Florence M. Cadigan and Granville DeMerritt. Opposed were Trustees J. Paul Bradley, Harold E. Purpus and Carol A. Slavick.

This Was a Loan

San Mateo County Supervisor Edward J. Bacciochio Jr. was somewhat surprised to read last Saturday that he was a $5 contributor to the reelection campaign of fellow supervisor James V. Fitzgerald.

Bacciochio's "contribution" was listed in the campaign contribution statement filed by Fitzgerald with County Clerk-Recorder Marvin Church.

Fitzgerald apologized to Bacciochio this week. Bacciochio recently attended a luncheon with Fitzgerald and found himself short of cash, so Fitzgerald loaned him $5, which Bacciochio repaid with a check.

Fitzgerald stuck the check in his pocket and inadvertently handed it over to his campaign chairman, Bob Levy, with a number of other checks made out to the campaign fund.

In a note to Bacciochio, the candidate said he will correct the matter by changing it from a $5 donation from James Fitzgerald and will make the necessary apologies.

Smoke Detector Warning Issued

Some salespersons of smoke and heat detector systems are taking advantage of public concern over home protection from fire to grossly oversell their wares, John W. Keller, president of the San Mateo County Fire Chiefs Association, warned today.

Fire departments have been reporting cases of home owners being sold as much as $600 worth of equipment, Keller said.

Keller, chief of the Redwood City Fire Department, said that, usually, one properly placed smoke detector costing no more than $60 is adequate to protect a family.

Fire departments have been receiving numerous calls about equipment salespersons, Keller said, generally after the caller has spent several hundreds of dollars for much more equipment than basically needed.

The chief urged home owners to call their fire department with any questions about the installation of fire alarm equipment in their homes.

Independent Survey Of Programs Asked

A member of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors and the Citizens Task Force on County Governmental Operations believe there should be an independent appraisal to check the soundness of programs proposed to the board by County Manager M. D. Tarshes.

The opinions were expressed Tuesday as the board began deliberations of Tarshes' recommendations for reorganization of county government to trim the number of independent departments from 28 to 19.

time to complete its review, the board continued the matter to its May 20 meeting at 2 p.m.

Supervisor Edward J. Bacciochio Jr., prefacing his remarks by terming Tarshes "the best county manager in California," said that a system of checking the efficiency of the county manager "is long overdue."

He proposed an independent analysis to "test the soundness of the advice we receive from the county manager."

"It is an injustice to expect him to be our eyes and ears," the supervisor stated.

Supervisor John M. Ward said early in the discussion that the Board of Supervisors as the county policy making group doesn't have the time to draft policy and spends much of its time approving recommendations of the county manager.

John P. Dern, chairman of the Citizens Task Force, reported that his group proposes a "programs and cost analysis staff" which would initiate special studies or provide analytical counsel on matters pertaining to the functions of county government, reporting directly to the Board of Supervisors.

The proposed staff should have sufficient expertise to provide counsel concerning organizational structure and functions, standards of employee performance, long-range planning, capital improvements and the interrelationships of all sectors of county government.

The question, Dern said, "Is the board getting full analysis of what is coming before you or are you reacting to information?"

Bacciochio said the present situation "tempts the county manager to dual allegiance to us and to department heads he hires."

The supervisor cited what he contends are "primary dangers" of the relationship between the county manager and the board.

An "advocacy mentality" of some department heads which prohibits submission of alternatives for recommended programs.

A "self-supporting syndrome among administrators akin to cronyism."

Unreported "malfunctions" and inefficiencies among the county staff.

Tarshes said he disagreed with the proposals, terming them "an expression of mistrust in the administrative officials of the county."

"You imply we need to be watched," he stated. "In a few years it may be who will watch the watchers?" Tarshes said the implications of the recommendations is that "the best county manager in the state can't do the supervisors' job. The supervisors have to do their own job."

The county manager added that how he does his job depends on how the supervisors define the job — "what your expectations are."

"It is up to elected officials to determine what kind of assistance you need to get your job done," he stated.

A county manager is only as effective as the confidence the board has in him, Tarshes said.

He stated that he does not like to have the board automatically accept recommendations from him. It makes him uncomfortable, Tarshes said, because it "indicates no one else is doing any thinking."

As to a reluctance to report inefficiencies, Tarshes said that this is true in situations where to make such matters public would result in chastizing of the individual who can be "corrected" privately.

Such problems are not aired publicly "unless it is something you (the board) need to do something about," Tarshes said.

As to the programs and cost analysis staff proposal, Tarshes contended that the board would be giving "someone else the resources to do the tasks the county manager is supposed to do."

Board Chairman William H. Royer indicated he is leaning toward an independent review of recommended programs and projects submitted to the board.

"I think it is possible to find someone to look for questions the board is missing, to give us a second look, a second objective viewpoint," Royer stated.

The main reason he is making his reorganization proposal, Tarshes said, is because the proliferation and fragmentation of administrative units in many instances hampers effective operations by dividing the attention of the board and top management and by inappropriate use of their time.

These problems, he said, continually are being compounded by the ever increasing list of important subjects competing for the time of top policy-making and administrative officials.

Tarshes admitted that the proposed reorganization would not be a cure-all for the county's administrative problems but would permit an important degree of improvement by providing a better framework for communication and coordination.

Angry Parents Protest Transfer

A contingent of angry parents has told the South San Francisco Unified School District Board of Trustees that they don't want their children moved from Ponderosa to Los Cerritos School.

The transfer, they said, would endanger the lives of their children.

The parents learned last week in a letter from the school district that in the fall their children will be taken from the overcrowded Ponderosa campus and moved to Los Cerritos, where there are several empty classrooms.

They protested that the children from kindergarten to sixth grade will be forced to walk along busy El Camino Real — a state highway.

The parents also said they are satisfied with the education their children have received at Ponderosa and don't want to adjust to new teachers and a new principal.

The trustees, after a one-hour discussion, agreed to meet with the parents this Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Los Cerritos School multi-purpose room to find a solution to the problem.

David Cricks, associate superintendent of certificated personnel, said the transfer plan would affect 79 students — all residing on Antoinette Lane.

He said Los Cerritos presently has two vacant classrooms and is expected to have two more in the fall, unless the Antoinette Lane children are relocated.

"This will put Antoinette Lane students within walking distance of a neighborhood school," Cricks said. Presently, the children are bused to Ponderosa.

Ponderosa School, on the other hand, is filled to capacity and children no longer are being admitted to second and fifth grades. Portable classrooms are in use there.

One parent, however, pointed out that the city plans to put a cyclone fence between Antoinette Lane and Orange Park — the route those students would take to get to Los Cerritos.

The Police Department confirmed parents' statements that there was one rape and one attempted rape committed along the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks in that area late last year.

When the fence is in place, the children will have to walk up Chestnut Avenue along El Camino Real and down Orange Avenue to get to Los Cerritos.

Cricks said the district was not aware of the plans to raise a fence.

The trustees said they would be willing to provide a bus for the transferred students. However, the parents' indicated they were still concerned.

One parent, Fred DeJarlais, objected to the way parents were notified of the change.

"We would have appreciated a little more consideration on the part of the school district before that change was made," DeJarlais said.

Darlene Lusanti said the board is only concerned about financial factors and not the children.

She also said that the children of persons who rent apartments or houses in South San Francisco always come second in importance after the children of homeowners.

"Even though we do rent and are not homeowners, we do put money into South City," she said.

The board denied that the children of renters are treated any differently.

Cricks said if the Antoinette Lane students aren't transferred, Los Cerritos will be in danger of losing two teachers in the fall.

Moving the children to Los Cerritos will free two portable classrooms in use at Ponderosa to be used elsewhere in the district — possibly at overcrowded Skyline and Junipero Serra schools.

Board members objected to parental concern that their children might not receive the same quality of education at Los Cerritos.

Safety Patrol Honors

The School Safety Patrols of South San Francisco will be the recipients of 15 red, white and blue rosettes presented by the California State Automobile Association (AAA).

The trophy-size rosettes are given in recognition of the South San Francisco schools, whose safety patrols effectively guarded street crossings during the past year.

Throughout the United States, safety patrol membership is an honored position. Millions of youngsters have served since the program was instituted over 50 years ago.

The presentations will be made during South San Francisco's Safety Patrol Review at noon, May 22, at South San Francisco High School.

Teachers Claim Board Delaying

A decision by the South San Francisco Unified School District Board of Trustees not to recognize the only active teachers union in the district as the exclusive bargaining agent has been labeled "discriminatory."

Representatives of the South San Francisco Classroom Teachers Association said the board's decision is a delaying tactic aimed at putting off salary negotiations as long as possible.

The SSFCTA — an affiliate of California Teachers Association — went on strike last spring for two weeks.

"Teachers in this district are anxious to get negotiations underway," said Marjorie Pitkin, SSFCTA president.

"The teachers are going to be very upset when they learn they will have to go to work in the fall without a contract," she said.

Trustees, however, have officially granted the California State Employees Association, Chapter 197, the right to represent the classified employees.

At the root of the dissension is the Rodda Act — state legislation effective July 1 which establishes collective bargaining for public school employees, eliminating the meet-and-confer process of the Winston Act.

Most school districts, including SSFUSD, are working under the Rodda Act although it need not be officially implemented until July 1.

The SSFCTA, which claim 499 members, was uncontested by the district American Federation of Teachers, which has 90 members.

However, the trustees have asked that the state Education Employment Relations Board (EERB) intervene and conduct an election among the SSFUSD teachers.

Until the SSFCTA receives official recognition as the bargaining agent, no negotiations will be held. That election, Mrs. Pitkin said, would occur no sooner than September and perhaps as late as December.

Negotiations normally are well underway at this time of year.

The Board of Trustees recently approved a motion stating that the board doubts the "appropriateness of this unit" and desires an election. At the same time, the board said it does not doubt the SSFCTA represents the majority of teachers and recognized that no other union filed an intervention.

"The Board of Trustees was ready to voluntarily recognize the SSFCTA pursuant to the provisions of the Rodda Act," said Board President Thos Henkle in a prepared statement. "Unfortunately, we were unable to grant voluntary recognition because the SSFCTA leadership was unwilling to exclude substitute teachers from the proposed bargaining unit."

Henkle said the board's legal counsel advised the trustees that substitutes are part-time or casual employees and shouldn't be included.

"We have been informed that this is not only the well-established standard in the private sector, but also with school employees across the country," Henkle said. "We are also surprised by the reluctance to exclude substitute teachers from the proposed bargaining unit."

Mrs. Pitkin said the statement was "not quite accurate."

She said the SSFCTA asked that long-term teachers

ers and those who teach two periods a day throughout the year be included — not all substitutes.

She said it's ridiculous to hold an election since there is no union interested in challenging the SSFCTA's right to represent all of the teachers.

If EERB does hold an election, the SSFCTA will be the only union on the ballot.

Henkle said the board will withdraw its request for EERB intervention if the SSFCTA will agree to the board's stipulations.

Candidates Tell Campaign Expenses

Campaign expense state-ments on file with the Sec-retary of State's office in Sacramento show Assem-blyman John F. Foran has spent more in the Sixth Senate District race than opponent Bob St. Clair.

The two Democrats are battling for the seat vacated by San Francisco Mayor George Moscone. A special election will be held Tuesday to determine Mos-cone's successor.

In his final statement required under Proposition 9, Foran listed cumulative expenditures of $44,094 to St. Clair's $39,904.

Other candidates for the post showed considerably fewer contributions than Foran and St. Clair, according to Secretary of State March Fong Eu's off-ice.

Major contributors to the Foran campaign chest include the California State Employees Association, headquartered in Sacra-mento, which contributed $7,500.

Another sizable donation to Foran came from the joint committee of the San Francisco County Medical Association and the San Mateo County Medical Association, with a com-bined gift of $5,000.

The California Dental Political Action Committee of Sacramento contributed another $5,000.

Foran listed a number of lobby organizations as con-tributors, many of them located in Southern Califor-nia. He also added a $400 contribution from the Cali-fornia Retail Liquor Deal-ers Association No. 3 of Sacramento, surprising in light of the fact that St. Clair is a retail liquor dealer.

Asked about the Southern California contributors, Foran said the organiza-tions are statewide in nature, and that he is well known to them because he has been a state legislator for a number of years.

St. Clair, a former San Mateo County supervisor and all-pro football player for the San Francisco 49ers, is in debt to Crocker Land Co., one of the part-ners hoping to develop San Bruno Mountain, to the tune of $2,505.

St. Clair, in a prelimi-nary expense statement filed April 9, listed a non-monetary contribution from Crocker Land Co., a partner in Vistacion As-sociates, of $1,625 — rental of a campaign office donated in lieu of cash for the period from Feb. 1 to April 5.

On his statement filed May 5, St. Clair listed an unpaid rent bill from Crocker in the amount of $880 for the period of April 6 to May 15.

Asked about the two fil-ings, one a nonmonetary contribution and the other an unpaid bill, St. Clair's treasurer, Charles Boerio, said the nonmonetary con-tribution "should have been listed as a bill, but we went ahead and listed it as a contribution."

Boerio said that St. Clair expects to pay for the off-ice use for the entire period, although no bill for the initial portion has yet been received.

Other contributions to the St. Clair campaign include a loan of $10,000 from the candidate to his committee, a $6,000 loan from Jack Friedman, 71 Hillcrest Court, San Fran-cisco, and a $3,000 loan from the Surplus Steel and Pipe Co. of San Francisco.

Major gifts given St. Clair include $1,000 from the Gun Owners of Califor-nia, listing a Sacramento address, a $1,000 gift from MCS-AFL Building Corp. of San Francisco, a labor union, and $1,000 from Pacific Ready-Mix Inc. of San Mateo, in the construc-tion trades.

Nelio Vannucci, an exe-cutive with Bay Cities Build-ing Materials Co., was listed with a donation of $500.

In addition, St. Clair lists a number of liquor distribu-tors and associations as smaller contributors.

An interesting facet of the race is that St. Clair has listed expenditures of $7,669 to the telephone company while Foran has spent just $1,044.

An installation of the "phone bank" for this coming weekend alone cost the campaign $4,015.

Doctor Wins 10-Year Plea For Stop Sign

A group of medical office employees and their sup-porters went to the South San Francisco City Council meeting prepared to fight for a stop sign.

They found little resistance, however, from the councilmen, who were willing to try out stop signs at two different locations in hopes of reducing accidents.

The Wednesday night decision by the council to place stop signs on Mission Road at Evergreen and Holly avenues ended a 10-year plea by Dr. Dugoni and others who work at the medical building at the corner of Holly and Mission.

Dugoni reminded the council that 10 years ago a 5-year-old patient was killed at that corner and that just a few weeks ago one of the medical offices X-ray technicians was seriously injured while she was crossing the street.

The medical center, he said, serves one-sixth of the city's population and many of the children of three nearby schools.

Everyday, he said, 300 persons cross Holly from the parking lot to go to the medical office.

"You are not there to see what we see everyday," Dugoni said. He referred to the many near accidents which occur, and said the safety of both patients and employees is endangered.

He also presented petitions signed by 700 persons, collected in two weeks, asking for the stop signs at Holly Avenue.

"We could get you 7,000 signatures if we had two months," he said.

The city engineering staff had recommended signs on Mission Road only at Evergreen and Sequoia.

City Engineer Bob Yee said signs at those two sites would reduce the speed of cars on Mission.

He said a sign at Holly, as requested by Dr. Dugoni would create congestion and turning problems for traffic entering the medical offices, a gas station and stores. Yee recommended against a sign there.

The council, however, agreed to post signs at Holly and at Evergreen to further slow down the traffic.

Daly City Man Earns Promotion to Captain

Dimitrios O. Tatum, son of retired Air Force Tech-nical Sergeant and Mrs. Calvin O. Tatum of 693 Skyline Drive, Daly City, has been promoted to cap-tain in the U.S. Air Force.

Captain Tatum, a law enforcement officer, is assigned to Ineliric Com-mon Defense Installation, Turkey, with a unit of the U.S. Air Forces in Europe.

A 1965 graduate of George C. Marshall Regional High School, Ankara, Turkey, the cap-tain received a B.S. degree in sociology from Califor-nia State College, Hay-ward, and a master's degree in public adminis-tration from Central Michi-gan University.
